The Music of the Sea.

The gray unresting sea, Adown the bright and belting shore, Breaking in untold melody, Makes music evermore.

Centuries of vanished time, Since the glad earth's primeral morn, Have heard the grand unpausing chime,

Momently new-born, Like as in cloistered piles, Rich bursts of massive sounds upawell, Ringing along dim-lighted aisles. With spirit-trancing spell ; Chants of deep peal the sea-waves raise, Like voices from a viewless land, Hymning a hymn of praise. The booming billows shoreward surge ; By times a silver laugh it floats;

By times a low soft dirge. Souls more ennobled grow, Listing the worldless anthem rise; Discords are drowned in the great flow

Of nature's harmonies. Men change, and "cease to be," And empires rise, and grow, and fall; But the wierd music of the sea

Lives, and outlives them all.

The mystic song shall last Till time itself no more shall be; Till seas and shores away have passed, Lost in eternity. -Once a Week.

The Way to "Limaria."

BY BEGGINS FITZMUGGINS, ESQ.

We were riding along-that is, the worthy Sheriff of Hawaii and myself-enjoying a delicious morning that burst out gloriously between two showers. Maunakea lifted its unclouded how above a zone of snowy vapor, and the breeze eame joyously from the sea, where it had been playing with the waves, to wanton with the flowers. As we watched it toss in emerald billows the tall grass, and shake the bright diamond drops from the leaves, and indulged in poetic visions over a variegated and beautiful landscape, we heard a rustling in the lauhala trees to our left which broke in upon our day-dreams. A rough object, with a wild, bog-trotting look and fice bearded as a gorilla, "unkempt, unshaved, unshirt," peered through the leaves with an inquiring glance that fell upon us almost startlingly. In the richest Ballyporeen brogue he energetically

"An' if ye place, surs, kin ye be afther telling me the way to Limaria?"

Our worthy Sheriff, with an air of mock composure, suited to the occasion, replied that he knew no such place.

"Faix, an' is it yersilf that sez it? Why, its Limaria I mane, sur-Misther Spincer's placethe man that kapes the shape farm, ye know, sur."

"Yis, sur, that's jist it, sur!-Limaria-the shape farm, shure, sur. An' how far is it, at all "Why, you are a long way off; why did you not go to Kawaihae by the steamer Kilauca?" " Is it the stamer ye'd be afther wishin' me to go in, sur? Bad cess to it! it's not meself that 'ud be enught in the haring of its stame whistle! Och! botheration upon the whole race of bloody stamers, since the last one its meself wuz on blew me to the furst mile stone on the road to hivin, and as I wint up I met Mike O'Flaherty comin' down, skinned and cucked to a jilly, sur. God rest his sowi! Include! kitch me on boord of a dirthy stamer! I 'ud as soon take passage in a spalpeen of a paper balloon to the moon for a slice of grane chaze, de ye see, sur! An', bedad, it's meself that kem down in the hould of a bit of a schooner that smilt like Jemmy Cassidy's pig stye, that hadn't been claned from the time of the flood, or like the stame from the bung-hole of a did hed of a whisky barrel, he jabers!" "Why did you not take a schooner to Kawaihae," asked the Sheriff.

"Och, he the holy spoon! an' it's meself that kem here for the rayson that it didn't at all set well on me stumach, sur, to be thraveling on fut, all alone, in this haythen and cannibal countbry, sur, where, I'm towld, they smack their chops over a dish of cowld pracher, bad cess to 'em! So I hev bin towing meself afut from Haylo to this blissed spakin, sur. Last night I hauled into poort and stayed wid a nagur, and they gev me pud'n for supper-the stuff they stir about wid their fingers, ye know; an' they gev me a bed of a blanket wove of grass blades to slape on, aur, an' in the mornin divil a cint had I to pay, sur; but I hedn't been gone as long as a hungry praste cud count his bades before they kem yelling and throoping afther me like a pack uv a thousand bloody divils, sur. I thought of poor Captin Cuck, and me heart laped into me troat, sur! Out upon ye-away wid ye-sez I to meself, but they jubbered on like the regiment of monkeys that ran me a ship boord on the Goold Kost, bedad, whin I wuz a powther monkey meself, bedad, sur. But which is the road, do ye say, to Limaria?-Misther Spincer's, the shape farm, ye know?" The Sheriff pointed out the way, and the last we saw of Paddy he was lifting the soles of his brogues at a double quick, on the delectable road to Laupahoehoe, and if he don't share the fate of poor "Captin Cuck," he will arrive at "Limaria-Misther Spincer's-the man that kapes the shape farm, ye know." And we hope he may be refreshed with more "pud'n" on the NEW SOUTH WALES .- The expected visit of his Royal Highness Prince Alfred is of course the most exciting subject of the hour, and although much uncertainty exists as to the date of his arrival in the colonies, preparations are being actively made to give him a royal reception. The South Australian Parliament has voted £5000 for that purpose, Victoria, £15,000, and our own Government intend spending £5000. The whole of the steam fleet belonging to the port, some base been gratuit.

Physician and Surgeon.

Office—Over Dr. E. Hoffmann's Drug Store, corner of Kashu manu and Merchant Sts., opposite the Post Office.

Respecte—Chaptain St., between Naunau and Fort Sts.

Owner House—From 8 to 10 A. M., and from 3 to 5 P. M. forty ocean going steamers, have been gratuitously tendered to the Government to proceed to sen as soon as the Galatea is off the coast and escort her into port. The City Council have voted £3000 for a banquet and other entertainments in honor of our sailor Prince.

We are all on the qui rice awaiting the arrival of his Royal Highness Prince Alfred. All the arrangements are made for his reception, but it seems as if dinner is likely to get cold before the guest of the evening puts in appearance. The steam frigates Challenger and Falcon sailed hence on Saturday to await the Galalca at Melbourne. Forty steamers besides the entire fleet of the Royal Sydney Yacht Squadron, have completed arrangements to proceed to sea and meet Prince Alfred as soon as his arrival off our coast is notified .- Australian paper.

OUR NAVY ABROAD.—It is very pleasant to read Admiral Farragut's report of the reception given him at Cronstadt by our fast friends, the Russians, and to know that, in this case, these win courtesies were so worthily bestowed. The American fleet is received with all the honors, and nothing is left undone to show respect to a distinguished commander and to the nation represented by him. Much that is personal, too, enters into this reception, for many of these Russians have experienced American hospitality, and remember the cordiality with which they were treated in all our ports. In South America also, Rear Admiral Godon and the vessels under his command are participatin festivities of an international character. Prince Alfred, of England, was at Rio Janeiro, in command of the ship Galatea, where he had a grand reception on one day as Prince, and on the next returned the compliment as captain. A great deal of powder was burned, flags flaunted in the breeze, the Rear Admiral was thanked by the British Admiral, and a general "gush" of friendly relations took place.

A REMARKABLE PRAYER. - On Friday night, October 7th, a meeting of the Republicans of Richmond, Virginia, was held. It was composed of whites and blacks, and the proceedings were opened by a colored man making the following

Oh, Lord God, bless our enemies - bless President Johnson. We would not have even him sent to hell. Come, O come, good Lord, and touch his heart, even while I am talking with you here to-night. [Amen.] Show him the error of his ways. Have mercy upon our Moses [great laughter and amens], who, like Esau, has sold his birthright for a morsel of pottage-took us in the wilderness and left us there. Come down upon him, O Lord, with thy blessing. God bless us in our meeting to-night, and help us in what we do. God forbid that we should choose any Conservative that has the spirit of the devil in his heart, and whose feet take hold on God bless our old friend-tried and true-"Oh, yes," replied the Sheriff, "its Waimea Mr. Hunnicutt, who has stood a great many sorrows, I think he can stand a great many more. Dealer in Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, Men's Cloth-[Laughter.] Bless our Judge, Mr. Underwood, thing harm a hair of his head."

MEN WANTED .- The great want of this age is honest, sound from center to circumference, true to the heart's core. Men who will condemn wrong in friend or foe, in themselves as well as in others. Men whose consciences are steady as the needle to the pole. Men who will stand for the right if the heavens totter and the earth reels. Ship Chandler, Dealer in General Merchandise, Island who can tell the truth and look the truth and look the world and the devil right in the eye. Men that neither flag nor flinch. Men who can have courage without whistling for it, and joy without shouting to bring it. Men in whom the current of everlasting life runs still and deep and strong. Men too large for sectarian limits, and too strong for sectarian bonds. Men who do not strive, nor try, nor cause their voices to be heard in the streets, but who will not fail nor be discouraged, till judgment be set in the earth. Men who know their message and tell it. Men who know their place and fill it. Men who mind their own business. Men who will not lie. Men who are not too lazy to work nor too proud to be poor. Men who are willing to eat what they have carped, and wear what they have paid for.
